ARTARCTIC

Passages of glacial wonder COLLECTION

COLD, SILENT, ARCTIC.

Inspired by the great cold, the new ARTARCTIC collection expresses a new feeling of wonder dictated by the wonders of frozen nature.

Crystals sculpted by water, wind and light, plays of reflections, abstract geometries. The fabrics are narrative pieces that evoke exciting micro and macro wonders of nature, through refined patterns that recall the fascinating changes of state of water, snow, ice.

BARENTS FABRIC

ARTARCTIC is the neologism that evokes an almost uncontaminated, timeless nature, capable of drawing beauty. Encounters of wonder on a journey in the great cold around the world, but above all the discover of new combinations, colors and uses.

TRØMSØ FABRIC

A close-up photograph of a fabric with a complex, textured pattern. The fabric features a mix of blue, teal, and grey tones, with prominent horizontal bands of shimmering gold threads. The texture is dense and appears to be a woven or knitted material. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the intricate details of the fabric's weave and the metallic sheen of the gold threads. The overall composition is vertical, with the fabric filling most of the frame.

KHANTYFABRIC

NAUTILUS FABRIC

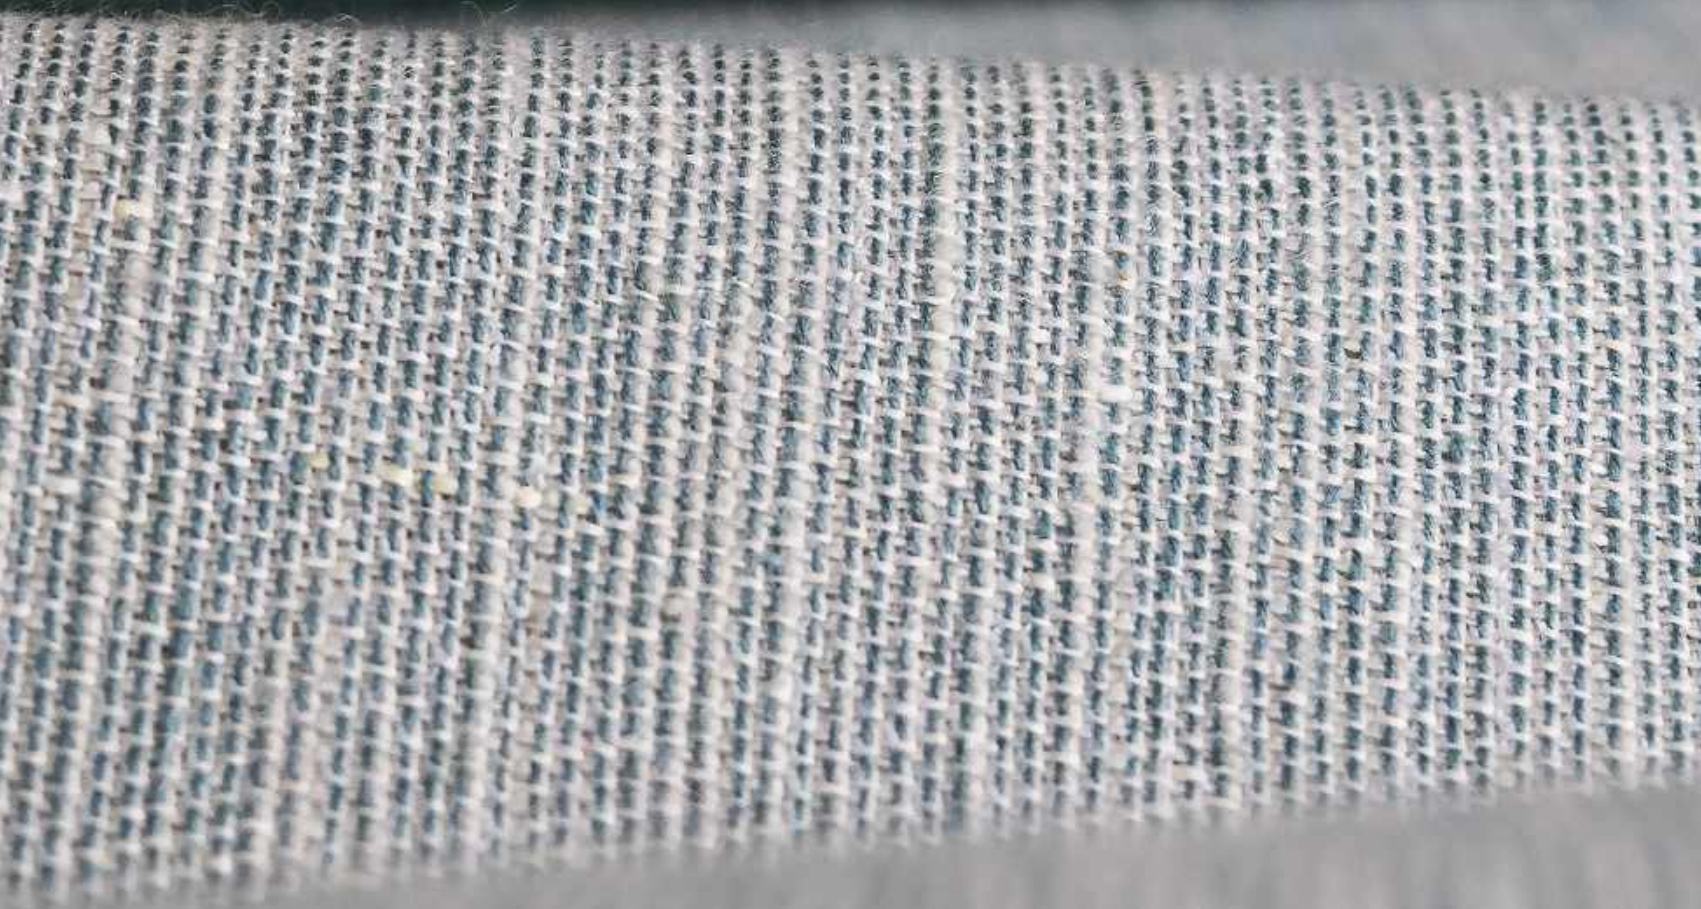

Linen, cotton and modal come to life in the vibrant Trømso and Nautilus, enriched in bright color palettes for a contemporary decor. The refinement of silk in Barents enhances the geometric design; the circular references in Kiviniq and the lines in Khanty underline the strong bond of the designs with nature, enriched with a glow of light that embellishes the details. Fabrics for all uses - bed, table, curtains, accessories, upholstery and wallcovering - perfectly coordinated, like Nantucket, and innovative like Blizzard. A textile proposal and stylistic research where reversibility, inventiveness, and the capable use of natural fibers surprise.
